Sustainably-Caught Groundfish

September 13, 2010

Sadly, Alyssa Foods has closed its frozen fish division. The logistics of ensuring adequate catch and the high costs of frozen-fish processing and transport have proven unsustainable.

We were very fortunate to have George, the owner of Alyssa Foods, supply us with amazing fish for the past three years. I know all Ellora members will join me in thanking him.

I will try to find another source of sustainably-harvested fish so that Ellora members can continue to have access to good, clean fish that they can enjoy with a clear conscience. I'll keep you posted.
